Introducing Petroleum News Bakken

You've heard newspaper advertising creates awareness, telling the marketplace you're a player.

But a print advertisement isn't all Petroleum News Bakken does to help you create awareness.

Written for the oil and gas industry — and guaranteeing solid readership in industry, government and among financial analysts — we go "beyond advertising" to carry your message, whether it's expertise and leadership in your field or your eco-friendly record or profitability and savvy leadership.

For example, in each issue, Petroleum News Bakken's contracted advertisers are included in a Bakken players list and Oil Patch Bits, which announces your new hires, awards and achievements.

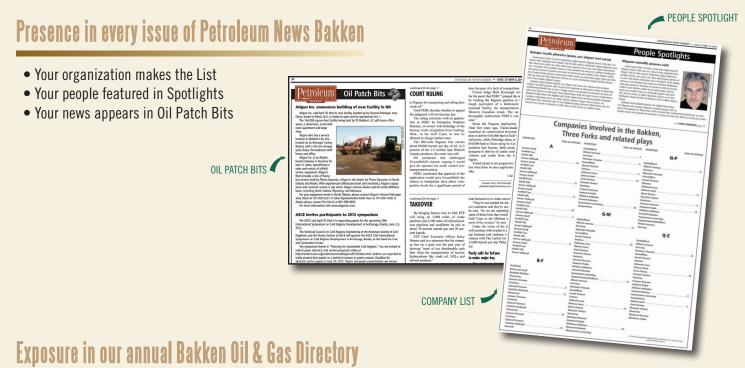

There's more.

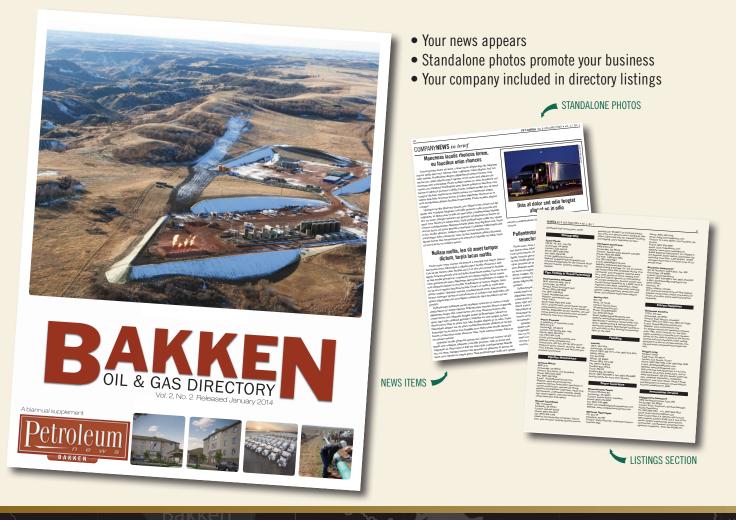

Your firm will be included in our Bakken Oil & Gas Directory, which others turn to for purchasing goods and services. This magazine, published yearly, gives you a chance to promote your business through news items, photos and directory listings. Depending on the size of your ad contract, you might also be eligible for a Q&A company profile.

So how do you become a contracted advertiser and get more exposure for your business? Start by turning the page....

Benefits of becoming a contracted advertiser

To become a Petroleum News Bakken 'contracted advertiser' and gain the marketing benefits, you simply have to run 12 ads of any size over a 12-month period OR have an annual contract that exceeds $8,000. In return, you will receive this bonus exposure:

Expanded benefits for larger advertisers

If your organization's annual advertising contract with Petroleum News Bakken exceeds $10,000, you receive additional marketing exposure in the form of complimentary online advertising at PetroleumNewsBakken.com and one Q&A company profile in PN's Bakken Oil & Gas Directory. Details follow:

Q&A Company Profile in Bakken Oil & Gas Directory

Q&A COMPANY PROFILES

Heavy civil contractor Cruz Construction thrives on logistically challenging projects

Our special publications director will work with you on a Q&A Company Profile that will appear in our Bakken Oil & Gas Directory, a full color magazine that is published yearly and distributed to all Williston basin Bakken/ Three Forks players, as well as to companies doing business in nearby plays, such as northwestern Montana and southern Alberta's Exshaw/Bakken fairway.

When a Petroleum News Bakken reader visits our home page at PetroleumNewsBakken.com there are advertisements from contracted advertisers that slowly rotate from the bottom of the page to the top. Once a reader clicks on a story the movement stops, so as not to distract the reader, until the next page reloads or refreshes. There are three different-sized ads available; the amount of your annual contract determines the size of your ad. Ask our advertising executives for more information.

Why Petroleum News Bakken is best for you

Like its sister newspaper in Alaska, the edge Petroleum News Bakken has over other publications is the excellence of its news, 70% of which is generated by a cadre of experienced journalists. Our writers scout for news the old-fashioned way — digging through agency files, scrutinizing SEC filings, and developing contacts within oil companies — because executives in industry and the financial community want the latest, most insightful news.

Why is an editorial calendar based on news events best for you?

Because your ad has a better chance of getting noticed in a newspaper that is being read. The alternative is placing ads in publications that surround your message with stale, repackaged 'news' designed to hook advertisers, not readers.

Conferences = MORE EXPOSURE

Conference distribution gives advertisers more exposure. Ask our advertising executives for the schedule of local, national and international conferences Petroleum News Bakken will be distributed at in the next year. It is updated monthly for your convenience.
